DETAILED ACTION

Claim Objections

Claims 3, 4 are objected to because of the following informalities:

Claim 3 "the side faces", "the from face" lack antecedent basis.

Claim 4 "the side faces", "the front face" lack antecedent basis Appropriate correction is required.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 1, 2, 6, 7 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Arakawa et al (US 2003/0164243).

Re claim 1, Arakawa et al disclose an electromagnetic wave shielding sheet comprising: a transparent substrate (14), and a metal mesh layer (11') laminated to one surface of the transparent substrate with an adhesive layer (13), a first blackening layer (12) containing copper [0052] being formed on one face of the metal mesh layer on the side of the transparent substrate (Fig 1a), a second anticorrosive layer containing one or more metals selected from chromium, nickel, and silicon being formed on the other face of the metal mesh layer on the side opposite to the transparent substrate (chromate treatment), re claim 2, a first anticorrosive layer containing one or more metals selected from chromium, nickel, and silicon being formed between the first blackening layer and the transparent substrate (chromate treatment)[0052].

Re claim 6, Arakawa et al disclose a method for producing an electromagnetic wave shielding sheet, comprising the steps of:

preparing a metal layer (11'), successively forming a first blackening layer (12) and a first anticorrosive layer (chromate treatment) [0052] on the face of the metal layer on the side of a transparent substrate, forming a second anticorrosive layer (chromate treatment)[0052] on the other face of the metal layer on the side opposite to the transparent substrate, laminating the metal layer and the transparent substrate with an adhesive layer(13), with the first anticorrosive layer facing the transparent substrate, to form a laminate, and etching the laminate to make the metal layer into a mesh (Fig 1b).

re claim 7, wherein at least either of the first anticorrosive layer and the second anticorrosive layer contains one or more metals selected from nickel, chromium, and silicon, and also zinc and/or tin when it is initially formed (chromate treatment)[0052], and the zinc and/or tin is removed from the first anticorrosive layer and/or the second anticorrosive layer in the step of etching (Fig 1b).

Allowable Subject Matter

Claims 3-5, 8, 9 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.
